OBSTINATE ATHLETES HURT WALKING GAME

Refuse to Leave Track When Disqualified and Judges Often Are Blamed. .

RULES ARE INADEQUATE

Since walking was revived in this country there never has been so much discussion as to the unsatisfactory conditions attending walking races as has taken place this winter. In nearly every race that has been held within the past six months the spectators have had to put up with about three per cent. walkers, and the remainder of the field composed of ambling, skipping and running mounteanks, who make no pretence of a fair heel and toe gait. That the blame for H. F. this condition of affairs has been placed wrongly on the judged of walking may be inferred from a letter received from William H. Parry, who was a judge at the games held in Madison Square Garden a week ago yesterday.

In his letter Mr. Parry points out that several of the contestants in the walking race at the games in question were disrace at the games in question and leave qualified by the judges, but did not leave the track. This action by the disqualified athletes created the impression among athletes.

and too game."

There is no question that Mr. Parry's statement absolves him and his associate, John T. Norton, from the blame which attaches to having a number of mixed and unfair styles in the competition right up to or near the end, but at the same time it upholds the account published in THE SUN in the main fact that with the exception of the first and second men the exception of the first and second men the exception by unfair styles. It also may be stated that there is no man better qualified to judge a walker than William H. Parry, a fine walker in his day and one who could pass muster as to style with the most critical judge.

The fact remains bowers in that Mr. Parry's seventh Regiment Championship Singles, Class A.—Semi-final round—Arthur M. Lovibond defeated A. N. Milne, 6.—3, 7.—5.

LOVIBOND GAINS FINAL ROUND. Meets Hall of Smith for Seventh Regiment Tennis Title.

Arthur M. Lovibond, a former cham pion, reached the final round in the Class A division of the flawn tennis tournament for the championship of the Seventh Regiment at the armory courts vesterday by defeating Arthur S. Cragin in straight sets at 6—4, 6—2. He will meet the winner of the Walter M. Hall-King Smith match for the champion-the track. This action by the disqualified athletes created the impression among the spectators that they had not been punished for their flagrant violations of the rules and that the judges had been remiss. That such was not the case Mr. Parry makes plain, and his letter says in closing:

"It would seem that if it is necessary to use physical force to remove a disqualified walker from the track the judges of the future will be chosen more for their physical prowess than for their expertness in the fine points of the heel and toe game."

Will Be Graduated by Columbia in February-Alumni Boat Club Being Formed.

While taking occasion yesterday to leny the report that he will row in the 1915 Columbia varsity shell, C. Frank MacCarthy, stroke of last season's Blue nd White championship eight, gave like opinions concerning the reduction of the Poughkeepsie course from four to three miles. The doughty little stroke also said that plans were under way for the incorporation of a Columbia alumni rowing club that would be to New York what the Union Boat Club is to Boston.

MacCarthy said he was almost certain to be graduated in Pebruary, and not even the prize of rowing in another championship shell could lure him away from his desire to get out into the workaday world. "While I may row on the machines when Coach Rice makes his call for candidates that will be no indication of what I will be doing next June," MacCarthy said. "I would like to get another crack at the hig fellows, but think I have had my share and want Poughkeepsie course from four to three but think I have had my share and want to get into more serious work."

Concerning the report of the Wisconsin Concerning the report of the Wisconsin medical faculty that the hearts of the Badgers' crew showed overdevelopment MacCarthy said the race itself had no bearing on the fact. The damage was done before the race, he said, and would not have been lessened in its severity if the race had been cut down to three miles.

"It is not a matter of miles," said the Columbia stroke. "It's a matter of being able to stand the strain once you sight able to stand the strain once you sight the finish line. The strain in the last quarter mile of a mile race is as try-ing on the heart as the last mile of a four mile race. I felt pretty chipper at the mile mark at Poughkeepsle, but am just as certain that if the race had been for two instead of four miles I
